

Public Comments and Stakeholder Contributions to Use Information in Scope Documents

Public comments, stakeholder contributions, and information from other Federal agencies informed the development of the scope documents for the risk evaluations for each of the ten priority chemicals. This information was received through:

- The public meeting on the ten priority chemicals on February 14, 2017
- Public comments in each of the dockets for the ten priority chemicals
- One-on-one stakeholder consultations held from January through April 2017
- Meetings with Federal agencies to discuss their uses and experiences with these chemicals
